WILDWOOD - Lt. Gov. Kim Guadagno attended the 2016 Distinguished Citizens Reception at Wildwoods Convention Center hosted by the Garden State Council Boy Scouts of America.

Guadagno joined several hundred scouting supporters to honor Avalon Mayor Martin Pagliughi and Lynda, his wife, and James Bennett of Sea Isle City.

One of the evening's highlights was when Eagle Scout Forrest Van of Troop 79, Sea Isle City, explained Scouting's influence on his life. He recalled a friend who was killed in an airplane crash, who often shared his wish to become an Eagle Scout. "That was the guiding force in his decision to strive toward that goal," Van said.

Van has yet to decide which college to attend in the fall. He hopes to become a military officer, and aspires to someday be president.

Eagle Scout Eddie Sika, who attained the rank while in Troop 79, Seaside, is a father and graduate of Richard Stockton University. He told of the importance he placed on Boy Scouts for helping him.
